Weekly rentals

Vendors can opt to sell their goods for shorter periods by renting a stall for a week at a time. The weekly rentals are single market stalls. The rental period is from Saturday to Friday. The final rental week of the event lasts six days. Weekly rentals are primarily meant for vendors who are looking to test their selling power for the first time at the event.

The number of visitors increases toward the end of the market. Weekends, holidays and varying weather affect the number of visitors and the volume of sales, so a full week gives a good picture of the busy peaks and quiet times for market sales and of the fluctuating groups of visitors.

Many of those who took the bold step to apply for the market once often apply again year after year. The market offers an opportunity for successful sales and to be part of a positive shared holiday experience.

Detailed structural information for weekly rentals: see the picture of a Single stall on the previous page.

Request for a discounted price

Each year, the event reserves at least 50% of the number of market stalls for vendors who are entitled to a discounted fee for a single stall due to their status as small-scale artisans. Helsinki Christmas Market supports these small-scale artisans by covering the basic costs for the market stalls from its own budget.

Helsinki Christmas Market wants to create the opportunity for responsible consumption within the heart of Helsinki at Christmas time. Appreciation for small producers and support for the handicraft tradition are deeply rooted values of Helsinki Christmas Market. For this reason, the event, in co-operation with its commercial partners, annually supports small producers by subsidising the basic costs of their market stall rentals as part of the event's overall budget.

Here's how to apply for a discounted rental fee:

On the Vendor profile form, tick the item 'I am applying for a discounted market stall fee' and in the open field below, write the reason why the company or community should get a discounted price, see the criteria.

You are eligible for a discounted market stall fee if:

- You are a sole entrepreneur or non-profit organisation selling goods and immaterial gifts
- You are a small food producer whose production is very limited, e.g., small bakeries, individual honey producers and farms / small gardens
- You sell products with an extremely high degree of craft production
- You sell products with a high degree of domestic content
- You sell the products yourself at the market for at least 50% of the time
- You can share the stall with several sole entrepreneurs

You are not eligible for a discounted market stall fee if:

- Your product is sold in chain shops
- Your product is manufactured using industrial series production
- Your product is sold wholesale / through multiple retail sales channels
- More than a quarter of your products are targeted specifically to foreign tourists

Application process

Stage 1: Complete the vendor profile form

Complete the vendor profile form in the online service of Helsinki Christmas Market (<https://tuomaanmarkkinat.fi/kirjaudu>).

In order to access the online service, you will need to create a username/password and log in. You can do that from this login page. Do not forget your username and password. You will need them again later.

Help with questions concerning the completion of the vendor profile form can be found in these instructions: 'General terms and conditions' and 'Frequently Asked Questions'

The application period ends on 1 September.

NOTE! Vendors selected for the cancelled event in 2020 should complete their vendor profile by 14 June and state their interest in participating in the 2021 event. After this date, these reserved stalls are opened to the general application process.

Stage 2: Curation stage

All vendor profiles and attachments that have been submitted by the end of the application period will be reviewed by the event organiser and assessed with consideration for, e.g., the values of the event and the annual objectives.

The objective is to select, from the vendor applications, a curated, high-quality and diverse range of products options for the Christmas Market.

The number of stalls in the Market Square is dependent on the local planning and regulations of the authorities.

The applicants will be notified of the results of the selection process on 6 September 2021.

Vendors will only be contacted after the end of the application period if the organiser requires additional information concerning the application in question or they have been selected for a cancellation place.

Stage 3: Reserving and paying for the market stall

The stalls at Helsinki Christmas Market are reserved by signing the online vendor agreement and paying the reservation charge. Detailed instructions will be sent to all selected vendors in connection with the selection confirmation email message.

You can order additional services under your vendor profile until 22 October. If you order an additional service after this deadline, we cannot guarantee its availability. Additional services ordered during the event are paid for by card in connection with the order.

Due dates for payments:

Due date for the reservation charge: 20 September 2021

Due date for the market stall fee and additional services: 12 November 2021

If the payment is not made by the due date, the event organiser has the right, without separate notification, to release the market stall to the next vendor on the waiting list.

Helsinki Events Foundation reserves the right to change the due dates and invoicing timetable.

Stage 4: Updating information on the website

Log in to the online service at <https://tuomaanmarkkinat.fi/kirjaudu> to update your vendor profile.

The photos, names, presentation texts, payment methods, website and social media channels connected with the vendor profiles are published on the event's website in October in Finnish, Swedish and English. Update your information by 11 October to ensure that they can be translated in time.

Helsinki Events Foundation reserves the right to edit texts.

Frequently Asked Questions

What attachments do I need to submit with my application and how do I submit them?

The attachments are attached to the vendor profile form, in the section reserved for them. Each applicant shall attach an extract from the trade register that is no more than 3 months old and photos of the products that will be sold at the market for the purposes of the curation process and marketing communications.

Can a single market stall be shared by more than one vendor?

Yes. In this case, one of the vendors assumes the primary responsibility as the contact person and lessee and completes one vendor profile form that includes all the products that will be sold at the stall. Each company and individual operating on a business name must provide an extract from the trade register as an attachment.

Can an association apply to sell products at the market?

Associations can apply to participate in the market. The person who signs the vendor agreement should be someone who has the right to act on behalf of the association. A register extract concerning the association must be attached to the application.

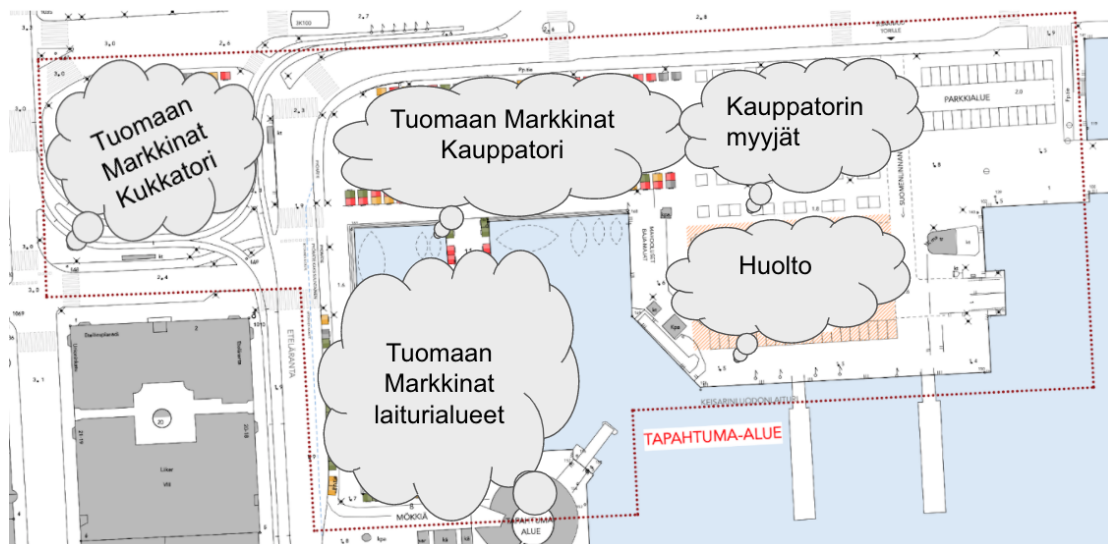

Can the right to sell be assigned to another vendor if the original vendor is prevented from participating in the event?

Only the lessee is permitted to sell products at the market stall. It is not permitted to organise activities as a subcontractor or to reassign the right to rent or a part thereof.

Can the vendor change the products to be sold after the curation stage?

The vendor must stick to the product category stated in the application. For example, handicrafts cannot be changed to a food product after the application has been submitted.
